Next week, April 7th and April 8th, Dominican is offering some great career enhancement opportunities.

| Monday, April 7, 2008, 7:00 pm |

Bluhm Lecture Hall in Parmer Hall.

"UNDERSTANDING WHAT YOUR CAREER IS IN TODAY’S CORPORATE ENVIRONMENT"

Presented by Paul Schneider, Partner, SSP BPI Group
www.bpi-group.com

BPI was founded in 1984 in France. It is a global company that focuses on HR issues, restructuring and careers. Paul is an expert in career transitions. Whether you are in your first job out of college or thinking about transitioning into a different career, employed or unemployed, please come to this informative and insightful presentation.

Paul will analyze the make-up of today’s workplace and how GenXers, Baby Boomers and others work together and how it can create cultural and value challenges. Paul will give insight into how a person’s value system will tie into job satisfaction.

Paul will guide us on how to get ready for a job search and what to do and the steps involved. Attendees will walk away with some insight and direction for their career moves.

You can not afford to leave this important aspect of your life to chance, so come and hear an expert speak about career transitions.

The lecture is free and you are welcome to bring a guest.

Questions: The Brennan School of Business, 708-524-6810

| Tuesday, April 8, 2008, 1:00pm-6:00 pm |

Parmer Hall Atrium

Dominican University Job Fair

The Career Fair will feature twenty companies and the list is attached if you receive this by e-mail. (list available outside the BSB office-Lewis 203.)

Bring your resume. Dress professionally.

The companies have openings for interns and for full time positions.

The Brennan School of Business students are especially alerted to positions at:

- Exelon - hiring for IT internships located in Chicago and Philadelphia.
- Follett Library Resources- Programmers and Web Designers,
- The Bradford Group - marketing interns and full time accounting.
- Cole-Parmer (of The Parmer Hall fame) - HR and accountants.
- There are some not-for-profit organizations that are in need of interns in a variety of business areas. These would be unpaid internships and this might suit some international students who would like to obtain some experience. (no visa issues or work authorization needed for volunteer positions)

The Job Fair is sponsored by the Dominican University Center for Career Development (Sue Felice) and the Brennan School of Business Career Development Office (Grace Whiting)

| Need Three Students |

for Behavioral Interviewing Training at Exelon.
Monday, April 21st, 7:45am-12 noon in Warrenville.

Exelon HR management has requested three students to be "interviewed" by their managers. This is part of Exelon’s Management Training Module and you will be interviewed in the Behavioral style. It’s a great opportunity to get comfortable in how to answer the behavioral questions. You will get feedback. Please contact gwhiting@dom.edu if you have an interest.